

Non-Stipendiary Visiting Fellowships and Scholarships 2024-25

1 The Institute of Languages, Cultures and Societies

ILCS supports research in the integrated study of languages, cultures, and societies. Though its strengths reside primarily within the fields of French and Francophone, German, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, and Latin American/Caribbean studies, it supports the transnational study of languages and cultures while seeking to advance connections with organisations that focus on cultural and linguistic experience in other global contexts. Its staff's expertise bridges literary, historical, ethnographic, and digital research, with a particular emphasis on postcolonial and migration studies, and the environmental humanities. ILCS is an integral part of the School of Advanced Study which, through the collective work of its eight Institutes, promotes interdisciplinary research.

2 Non-Stipendiary Visiting Fellowships and Scholarships at ILCS

Visiting Fellowships and Visiting Scholarships are available on a non-stipendiary basis in all the fields of research covered by the Institute, as well as in interdisciplinary studies. Applications in comparative and cultural studies are particularly welcome. Non-stipendiary Fellowships/Scholarships can be held within the Institute or one of the Institute's four research centres:

- Centre for Latin American and Caribbean Studies
- Centre for the Study of Contemporary Women's Writing
- Ingeborg Bachmann Centre for Austrian Literature
- Research Centre for German and Austrian Exile Studies

The Fellowships are open to applicants from the UK and overseas. Applicants for Visiting Fellowships should have completed their doctorate and have a strong publications record. Applicants for Visiting Scholarships will be current doctoral students.

4 What the Institute offers

The Institute can offer office accommodation shared with other Fellows, with wifi, internet, email account, photocopying/printing facilities, and access to the University of London's Senate House Library, where the holdings in Germanic Studies and Latin American Studies are world class. Senate House Library has a substantial collection of books, journals, online resources, theses and archives in all the Institute's fields. Fellows can also access the libraries of the other Institutes that make up the School of Advanced Study: Advanced Legal Studies, Classical Studies, Historical Research, and the Warburg. Fellows are offered free access to all the Institute's events and are expected to participate as much as possible in the intellectual life of the Institute.

5 Requirements

Fellows/Scholars contribute to and enhance the scholarly activity of the Institute and the School of Advanced Study. In addition to presenting current work as a seminar or as part of a larger conference, Fellows/Scholars are invited to organise an event either during or resulting from their stay, or otherwise contribute to the work of the Institute. Fellows/Scholars are invited to place a recent, normally unpublished, piece of work in our free open access repository SAS-Space, and to contribute to the ILCS blog. Publications resulting from research conducted during the tenure of the Fellowship must acknowledge the Institute and, where appropriate, a
